NEW: Access Social Networking Site Information within Accurint® for Government and Accurint® for Law Enforcement

LexisNexis Virtual Identity Search and Report provides government and law enforcement agencies with an alternate view of an entity, their virtual presence. With this enhanced search functionality, you can determine if a virtual identity or web footprint exists for your person of interest within seconds, without having to access multiple sites – saving you and your agency significant time and effort. Investigators and researchers can now run a subject’s email address within Accurint and determine if that email address is linked to any social networking sites (e.g., Facebook, MySpace, LinkedIn). Additionally, when you request a Virtual Identity Report in Accurint, you will receive a list of all matching social network and/or virtual identity public-facing pages (URLs) when a match is found between the search subject’s email and a site’s ‘registered’ email address.
